Description: In the summer of 2001, twelve year old Fadi's parents make the difficult decision to illegally leave Afghanistan and move the family to the United States. When their underground transport arrives at the rendezvous point, chaos ensues, and Fadi is left dragging his younger sister Mariam through the crush of people. But Mariam accidentally lets go of...

Review: To be honest, I struggled with this book from the beginning. After a couple of chapters, I finally started to realize my struggle with the text. There are moments of flashbacks embedded into the story that I wasn't realizing at first. That, coupled with the cultural terms and vocabulary kept me at bay. Once I got that figured out, the story began...
